"INTERESTING" seems an inadequate description for the items that the Campbell police will offer for sale at the auction at the police department this Saturday, December 5.

Of course, there are bicycles (19 of 'em). But this is not the unusual part of the auction in our book. There seems to be always many unclaimed bikes. It is the other assorted items that sort of bugs us.

The police department has accumulated the stuff over a period of months. Most of the articles have been found by the officers on their rounds and have been unclaimed after the usual efforts have been taken to find the rightful owners.

Lt. Don Burr, who will be the auctioneer this Saturday, explains that many other articles, of course, have been picked up by the cops and in many instances the owners have properly identified them.

We realize that many of the items were probably taken from or lost by their owners many miles from Campbell.

But it still is interesting, in a sort of negative way, to envision some of the frustrations that the loss of the items must have caused in the households concerned.

A GOLF PUTTER, for example, is among the 20 articles that Auctioneer Don Burr will put on the block.

Now a putter to those who play golf is ordinarily something special. Even hackers, the class to which we seem to be relegated, put a lot of faith in the type of club that is used to finally get the little white pellet into the hole.

Trusty putters are zealously guarded. We can imagine the tearing of hair that must have taken place in this particular case when the golfer found that his putter was missing.

We don't know whether fishermen have the same feeling with respect to their favorite pole. But, in passing, we note that there are five fishing poles to be auctioned off also.

There are also two tool boxes, complete with tools, several suit cases, a radio and a couple of wrist watches.

We recognize that the loss of those items may have caused just as much consternation to the losers as did the golf putter. In many instances the value probably was far greater.

Yet in our mind's eye, we can see a wild-eyed golfer on the first green when he first discovered his putter was missing.

It's not a pretty sight. We know we have been in a similar predicament.

P.O. ups Yuletide service

Longer post office window hours and expanded delivery services are planned for the Christmas season at the Campbell post office, as a result of directives issued by the Postmaster General John A. Gronouski this week.

Postmaster James M. Hurley said that the windows at the local office during the Christmas season (December 5-26) will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Friday.

On the two Saturdays (December 12 and 19) the window hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and on the Sundays (December 13-20) from 12 noon until 4 p. m.

Hurley also reported that parcel post will be delivered on a six-day basis for the period instead of the five day now in vogue.

The postmaster also urged the use of the ZIP code numbers on mailings of cards, letters and parcel post. He said that ZIP code speeds the delivery as mail generally moves in a more direct route and is handled fewer times. He also urged that Campbell residents to use their ZIP code number (95008) on their return addresses.

The postmaster also appealed to all residents to mail Christmas parcels early. Such packages should be addressed on one side only and properly packed.

Out of town parcels should be mailed by December 5, Postmaster Hurley added, if the sender expects delivery by Christmas.

Planners to make first move in L.G. Creek fight

Campbell city officials will really start getting their feet wet next week in the Battle-of-Los Gatos-Creek when the Planning Commission next Tuesday, December 8, holds a public hearing on a proposed amendment to the city's general plan. The amendment will designate parks and recreational areas in the city.

Basically the amendment, if approved by the Planners and then the City Council, will specify that all undeveloped creek-bed land within the city limits will be limited to use for parks and recreational purposes.

The amendment will apply to only open spaces and not to improved parcels. It will not change the present zoning of the creek bed.

That will be the next move in this naval battle when on December 22 the Planning Commission will hold another public hearing.

Campbell officialdom has waded knee-deep into the Los Gatos Creek land controversy after Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District had announced that 10 acres of reclaimed Los Gatos Creek bed land the district owns would be sold as industrial land for $275,000.

Campbell officials contend that the land should be retained by the county for parks and recreational purposes as part of the overall plan for development of the creek. They point out that the 10-acre parcel adjoins 80 acres of man-made lakes (percolation ponds) which also could be part of the park project.

So far the county supervisors or the county parks and recreation commission have shown no interest in acquiring the property,

Local family hosts Japanese musicians

BY GRACE HEBARD

If a happy smile counts for anything these days, two members of the Keio Mandolin Club from Tokyo, Japan, who are visiting in Campbell this week, have done their part to spread good will.

Mitsuhiro Takeda, 25, and Kouhei Maeno, 22, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swisher, 385 North Carolyn Ave., and the family is having a wonderful experience hosting these two Japanese youths. They are part of the 50 member orchestra comprised principally of mandolins and guitars, which is on its second United States concert tour, representing the Keio University.

For the past week they have been giving concerts at local schools and at San Jose State College. They will leave today for Los Angeles where they will wind up their tour. The Club is on its second visit to the U.S. They were here last year, sponsored by the West San Jose Rotary Club. This year they

It's THAT season--

Campbell's business district blossomed out this week with the overhead street decorations heralding the fact (if there were any who didn't know it before) that the Christmas season was again with us.

Under the supervision of the street department, the Christmas festoons were suspended across Campbell Ave. and on Winchester Blvd. in the business district.

The street decorations are a cooperative venture with the merchants, Chamber of Commerce and the city participating.

The accompanying photos shows the street department personnel putting the decorations in place.

City Council, Planners to hold joint session

Members of the City Council and Planning Commission will hold a joint study session next Monday night to determine the city's policies on a number of fronts.

The meeting will be held at the Golden Dragon preceded by dinner.

A full agenda faces the two bodies on matters pertaining to the city's future development. Heading the list of items will be the matter of the controversial 10-acre parcel of reclaimed land on Los Gatos Creek at Camden Avenue.

The two groups will probably also discuss the stricter "S" control measures recently adopted by the city.

Lorraine Lawton succumbs from auto injuries

Lorraine Lawton, 17-year old Westmont High School student, died early Monday morning at Los Gatos Community Hospital from injuries received in a one-car accident on Highway 17 in October.

The popular senior was a song girl for the Westmont High School football team and had previously attended Campbell High School. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lawton, 14141 Sobey Road, Saratoga.

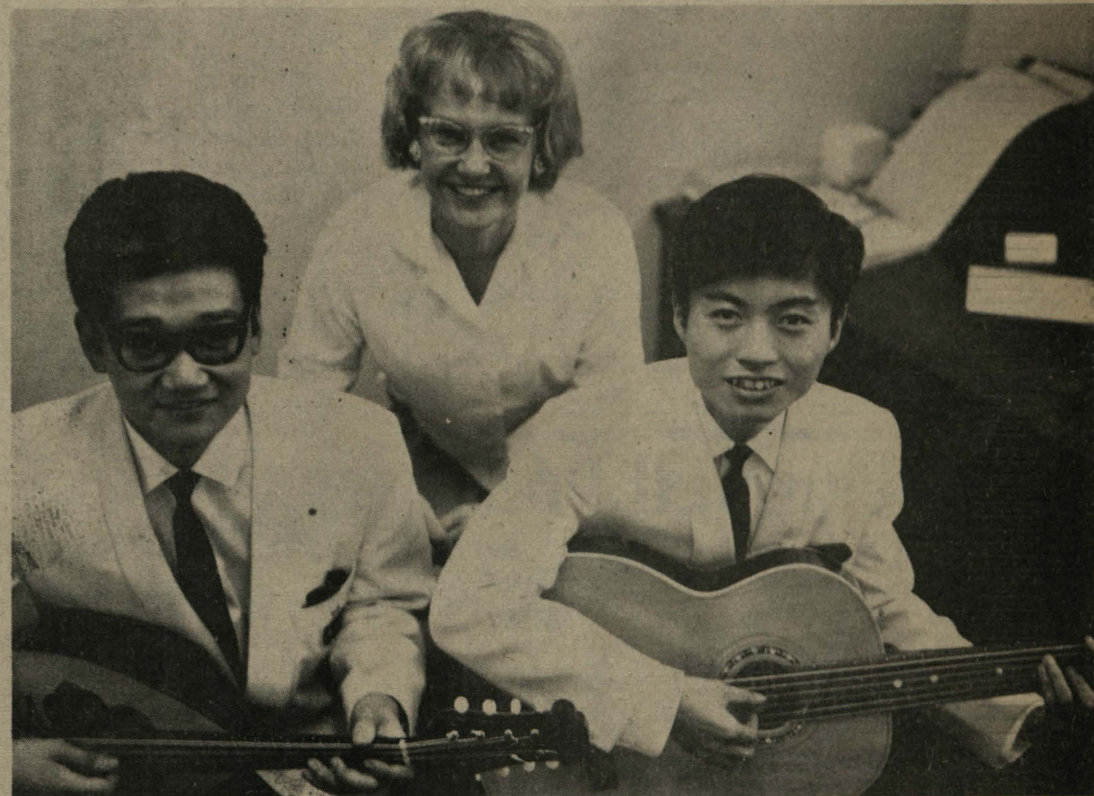

In addition to her parents, Lorraine is survived by three sisters, Nancy, Kitty and Kelly and a brother, James.

The Rosary will be recited at the Chapel of Hills, 615 N. Santa Cruz Ave., Los Gatos, Wednesday night at 8 p. m.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Saratoga Thursday morning, December 3, at 10 a. m.

FOR 47 YEARS-- Jarvis Stender, Sr., of 1266 San Tomas Road, was recently honored by the American National Red Cross for 47 continuous service as a first aid instructor. Stender was the recipient of a national and San Jose chapter award of a bronze medal and lapel pin. Stender, who recently retired as a captain in the Campbell police reserve, was the last remaining active member of Campbell's original police auxiliary. During his service he was responsible for first aid training of both police and fire department personnel.

Bureaucracy

There are two areas in which this city seems to be currently fighting a lone battle, as far as the rest of the county is concerned.

One area concerns the opening of Rincon and Latimer avenues when the San Tomas Expressway is constructed through town. The other has to do with the 10-acres of reclaimed land on Los Gatos Creek now owned by the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District.

To a large extent Campbell is "going it alone" as this city fights on both battlefronts.

We firmly believe that this community is right on both counts. We support our city officials enthusiastically as they carry the ball without any help from areas outside the city limits.

We do not know what the ultimate outcome will be. But the odds right now are against us. But this community is used to being the "under dog".

We are convinced that this is a time when the people of this community have an opportunity to indicate that they believe in what the city officials are trying to do and they support them wholeheartedly in their fight.

Both areas of the battle-field are important to this community's present and future welfare.

We are convinced, for example, that the closing off of Rincon and Latimer by the expressway will do irrevocable harm to the economic growth of our community.

We agree with Mayor Rose who points out that the traffic carried by the expressway will be dumped into that Camden interchange which is now a hodge-podge and will get worse in the future.

There is nothing to be gained, the mayor claims, by closing the two streets. In fact there is much to be lost for the Latimer and Rincon could funnel off more of that fouled-up traffic.

Whether the supervisors will overrule the trafficways committee and allow the streets to be opened is problematical. But we think that the supervisors should know that the people of this area are vehemently opposed to the street blocks.

With respect to the 10 acres of reclaimed land on Los Gatos Creek that the water conservation district maintains must be sold at industrial land prices either to a tax-supported body or to a private firm, we think there is something wrong with the whole ball of wax.

Everyone involved (including the water district) admits that the land should be retained so that the public can use it as a park and recreational area.

Everyone admits that the land is ideally located for such use because it adjoins 80 acres of man-made lakes (percolation ponds) that car also be developed for recreational purposes.

Everyone admits that the public will need many such areas in the future, if not now.

Therefore, the public, represented by some tax-supported agency, should acquire it.

And there, our dear readers, is where we throw up our hands.

The land is ALREADY owned by one tax-supported body. Isn't that the public? Or are we reading our tax-bill incorrectly?

Why should there be so much fuss over getting x-number of dollars for the property from another public agency when the taxpayers already own the property and will just have to take dough from one pocket and put it in another, so to speak.

Either we have our wires crossed some place or our education has been sadly neglected.

The property is owned NOW by the taxpayers. It seems to us that, if the taxpayers desire to keep it, they should be allowed to do so.

But then we are idealists.

In this age of bureaucrats, apparently the people who pay the freight need not be given much consideration.

The bureaus must prosper. That seems to be the main objective. The heck with the people. Somehow the perspective has been lost in the maze of bureaucracy double-talk that has badly confused the issue.

Pines Plaza plans grand opening

Five Campbell businesses have opened offices in the new Pines Plaza Realty building located at 100 West Rincon Avenue, according to the owner, Mrs. Connie Regas, local real estate broker.

R.J. Scholz and Associates, Inc., West Coast Installations, Inc., Contractor's Contact Service Association, David Cassin, Insurance and John T. Dawson, Attorney, have leased five of the thirteen available suites. According to Mrs. Regas, the two story building covers 12,500 square feet and features a large parking area. Grand Opening ceremonies will be held this Saturday, December 5, between 4 and 7 p.m.

mentary school district was the target for a typewritten two-page anonymous letter we received recently.

We make mention of the missive only because we have learned that copies of the letter directed to us were sent to other people.

The threat contained in the letter that, if we can't "handle" it, the San Jose papers will receive a copy, doesn't bother us one whit.

But what does concern us is that the charges of the writer are so malicious in scope that should any credence be given them irreparable harm could be done innocent victims.

We have been around a newspaper too long to give an anonymous letter more than a passing glance. Too many such letter writers are merely venting their spite because of a personal affront, real or imaginary.

They seem to have a perverted sense of values and hope by directing an unsigned letter to a newspaper that unfounded back-fence rumors can gain some semblance of genuineness.

We are not naive enough to believe that the school district is above criticism. Undoubtedly there have been some actions by school officials that possibly need a good airing. And maybe some of their actions may have been questionable.

But it is unfair by innuendo and implication to fire anonymously a load of buckshot, hoping that one pellet will find the right mark.

That's an underhanded and cowardly way to go hunting.... any time.

WEAVING has been used to describe a number of areas... such as pertaining to baskets and rugs or how a person drives or walks after having one too many.

But we were surprised to learn at a recent Chamber of Commerce luncheon at which Alan Hart, a state highway engineer, was the speaker, that there is such a thing as a "weaving lane" in highway talk.

We have heard of a "stacking lane" but this was the first time we heard of a "weaving lane".

For the uninformed, a "weaving lane" is apparently a highway access that allows traffic from one highway to get on another with the minimum number of bent fenders.

We learned also that "weaving lanes" present a hazard when they are too close together. We sort of wish the especially at the $275,000 price.

With no support coming from county sources, Campbell then decided to take drastic action to stop the sale for industrial purposes. Campbell has moved to rezone the land from its present industrial status to agriculture, which is the zoning used by the city for parks.

If the zoning goes into effect, the SCVWD will not be able to sell the parcel for industrial use.

In the meantime, Campbell's official family has gained support from the Chamber of Commerce's Inter-Service Committee, a group representing the various clubs and organizations of the community.

The committee, headed by Doug Beatty, an official of Western Gravel Co., has embarked on a campaign to get signers on a petition to be presented to the cities of Los Gatos, San Jose, and Campbell and the county asking that action be taken to acquire the reclaimed land for public recreation purposes.

APPRECIATION

Dear Sir:
Our Santa Clara County citizens have once again given their enthusiastic support to the Good Turn Day benefit drive to raise materials for Goodwill Industries of Greater Santa Clara County.

As president of the Board of this non-profit community service organization, may I express to the people of Campbell our gratitude for their support in giving, which resulted in enough material to provide over 28,000 hours of rehabilitation training.

Of course the 293 vocationally handicapped men and women at Goodwill Industries are also wholeheartedly indebted to the local Boy and Cub Scouts who gave up parts of two Saturdays in order to knock on doors in behalf of their handicapped fellow citizens. They also wish to thank the teamsters and truckers who helped.

May I especially thank your newspaper for its splendid cooperation, in supporting the drive in its news columns.
Yours very truly,
WILL BLESSING
President

DO YOU KNOW?

Dear Editor:
Recently the Mercury carried a picture of a lovely old house in San Jose, and a little of its history. The same day the Press had pictures of Campbell scenes, taken in the old days. All were very interesting, but a little information about each picture would have made them even more interesting.

Couldn't you do this oftener, perhaps make a feature of it from time to time? For instance, I'd like to know more about my house at 112 North Second Street, known to old timers as "The Ainsley House." My late husband and I, with some of our family, moved into it when we first came to California in 1944. It is now in process of being sold and I have been unable to find out when it was built.

I do know it was not built at this location but at some time early in the century was moved here from the Ainsley property on Harrison Street when more room was needed for the Ainsley cannery to expand.

My neighbor Mrs. Edna Smith says she moved here in 1912 and the Ainsley House was here then, but she seems to recall being told that it had recently been moved here. Mrs. Rose E. Hanger of Salinas who was a Campbell resident for many many years remembers being in the Ainsley home or Harrison Street often, but can't remember when it was moved.

It is a lovely, gracious old house and after

The "conservative" philosophy is as old as government itself. But in the last election millions of Americans discovered it for the first time through the candidacy of Senator Goldwater. Though conservatism meant something different to each one of them it was reduced to a common denominator by the common cause in which they joined.

One of Webster's five definitions of conservatism is "the characteristic of a political party which favors the conservation of existing institutions and forms of government". Using this definition, it is not correct to say that President Johnson's landslide victory was a repudiation of conservatism. Many tried and true conservatives voted for the President because they feared the disruption of existing institutions if Goldwater were to become President. In fact, it is probably true that uneasiness over possible Goldwater changes in Social Security and nuclear policy contributed materially to his defeat.

On the other hand the rationalization by many so-called "conservatives" that the 26 1/2 million votes for Senator Goldwater represents a solid start for the cause of conservatism is not valid. It wrongly presumes that conservative thinking started with Goldwater's candidacy. Secondly, it overlooks the fact that this number includes many fence-sitting segregationists in the South who aren't really Republicans.

Realistically speaking, the cause of honest conservatism took a terrific drubbing on November 3. The Republican party which garnered almost 34 million votes for Nixon in 1960 lost more than seven million of this total in 1964, while the more liberal Demotwenty years here I shall miss it. But with its spacious rooms, twelve of them, and its basement, it deserves a "family" and a family it is going to have.

cratic Party gained more than eight million, in the 46 target suburban Congressional Districts where Republicans hoped to gain, the Democrats actually gained five seats. Thirty-eight conservative Congressmen, many of them with long tenure, were defeated in this year's liberal landslide.

In view of these facts, the claim to a great conservative victory smacks more of wishful thinking than validity.

Since conservatism, as a long time and respected philosophy, was neither repudiated nor endorsed, what then can be the explanation for the decisive outcome of November 3? In my opinion, the voters who might truly have wanted to endorse conservatism, were repelled because of the methods used in promoting it. The negativism of books like "NONE DARE CALL IT TREASON", "THE GRAVE DIGGERS", and "A TEXAN LOOKS AT LYNDON", the constant references to Bobby Baker, Jenkins, and Billie Sol Estes, and the absence of any positive or constructive campaigning was not the kind of political diet the American people would accept. While it is axiomatic that the underdog in any campaign must disenchant the voters with the frontrunner, I have yet to see a successful candidate who won an election solely by running down his opponent. I have never known a completely negative campaign that was a good campaign.

So, the Presidential campaign of 1964 did not conclusively indicate the future of conservatism. It did prove that it can't be sold on a negative basis.

"There's nothing new about fallout. Drinking drivers have been falling out of wrecked cars for years!"

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

By Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q.—Does everyone receiving social security benefits have to file a report of his earnings to the Social Security Administration at the end of the year?

A.—You must make an annual report, if your earnings were more than $1200 for the year, and you were under age 72 during one or more months of the year. This report must be filed on or before April 15, 1965. Failure to do so may result in a loss of additional benefits.

Q.—When I reached age 65 in 1956, I was turned down for social security benefits because I had credit for only one year's work under social security. I have not worked since then but want to know if I can qualify under the new law.

A.—No. The minimum number of quarters on which benefits can be paid is still 6. The new law did not change this provision. However, you may qualify if you earn credit for another two calendar quarters of work under social security.

Q.—I read recently that a person should check his social security account at least every three years. How do you go about it and how much does it cost?

A.—Call, write, or visit any social security office and ask for a postcard form to fill out and mail to the headquarters of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland. Approximately three weeks later you will receive a statement of your earnings as they appear on your earnings record. If you believe there is an error in your account, contact your social security office and bring with you any records you may have of your earnings. This is a free service.

Q.—I receive social security checks, and although I did earn over $1200 last year, I did not file an annual report of earnings because my take-home pay was less than $1200. I want to know if I should file an annual report of earnings showing the actual money that I received during the year. A.—For social security purposes, annual earnings are the earnings before taxes, and not "take-home" pay. You should have filed an annual report showing your gross wages. This should still be done as soon as possible.

VICTORY HELMET
—Campbell United Fund "victory helmet" is being placed by Mrs. Eugen C. Andres, Jr. (left) school chairman for Campbell UF campaign, on the head of Halsey C. Burke, Central Area chapter commerce and industry division chairman, Calvin K. Townsend, Central Area vice president and Sunnyvale High School song girl Kathy E. Bernal, held cheer on the Campbell "team."

United Fund campaign exceeds goal in Santa Clara County

Campbell United Fund, led by O.S. Sorenson, campaign chairman, was among the first to report victory last week, having attained 103% of its quota. The trend was continued with an "overall win" tallied for the Santa Clara County United Fund on its final report.

M.A. Hopkins, president of the Santa Clara County United Fund, announced that $1,964,667 has been raised throughout the county to boost the appeal to 104% of the $1,897,532 county goal.

The Central Area UF chapter, which includes Campbell and ten other nearby cities, came through with "flying colors" by achieving 102% of its $1,156,766 goal totaling up collections amounting to $1,183,486. Most of the other cities included in the Central Area chapter also surpassed the 100% mark, with those not quite making it hitting well above the 90 percentile. Los Gatos finished up the campaign with 106% of goal, while Cambrian Park attained the 120% mark and Santa Clara hit 104% of goal.

Other chapters of the county UF reported as follows: Palo Alto-Stanford, $345,273 for 103% of goal; Los Altos, $101,283 for 105% of goal; Sunnyvale, $204,226 for 112% of goal; Mountain View, $117,760 for 103% of goal and the newly formed South County area, $12,639 for 107% of its first United Fund goal.

Hopkins gave credit for the successful 1964 UF campaign to the "dedicated leadership" of the more than 12,000 volunteers who took part in the three-month long appeal. Hopkins also thanked the thousands of UF supporters and contributors who donated so generously to this year's cause on behalf of the 65 agencies who look to the United Fund for all or part of their support.

Contributors who still wish to donate to the United Fund may send their gift to the Santa Clara County United Fund, P.O. Box 787, Campbell.

Pacific Telephone to expand downtown San Jose offices

San Jose has been selected as the headquarters city for Pacific Telephone's newly-formed Central Counties Area, C.W. Stubenrauch, General Manager, has announced.

Stubenrauch said the company has leased office space for the headquarters operation in a building to be constructed in downtown San Jose. Several hundred administrative, personnel, engineering and clerical employees will move into the new quarters about June 1, 1965, from other locations in San Jose and other cities, Stubenrauch said.

The new operating unit, which includes parts of the Company's present Bay and Northern Counties Areas, was formed in September. At that time, Stubenrauch said the new area was created to keep pace with the tremendously growing communications operations in Northern California.

The Central Counties area covers about 29,000 square miles. About 11,000 employees work in the area. It serves 1,400,000 telephones.

The area includes the Peninsula from South San Francisco to San Jose; up to Hayward on the East side of the Bay; takes in the Coastal area from Santa Cruz to San Luis Obispo and the San Joaquin Valley from Fresno to Bakersfield.

Peruvian city may be sister City

The possibility of forming a Sister City relationship with a city in Peru was made known at the last meeting of the Campbell Sister City Committee. Chairman Myron Fairchild revealed he had received correspondence from the American Municipal Association in Washington, D.C., which indicated there were several cities in Peru, with similar backgrounds to Campbell, who were interested in starting this program.

Fairchild also told committee members that Dr. Wallace Hall, president of the West Valley Junior College, would cooperate with the committee in any way possible. Final selection of a city will be announced after the committee screens various brochures from Peru.

Cub Scouts

Pack 379 held its November meeting at Hamilton School under the leadership of Cubmaster Edward Bianchi.

Mrs. Juanita Wallace's Den #3 opened the meeting with a flag ceremony.

Assistant Cubmaster Donald Mason and Den Mother Lela Ageson adjourned to another room to talk with the parents of prospective cubs and to obtain additional den mothers while Mrs. Loretta Harris' Den #4 put on a charming Thanksgiving skit and Mrs. Charlotte Rice led the Cubs and their parents in songs and games.

Boy Scout Commissioner Vince Staneszewski awarded the Wolf Badge to Paul Accinelli, a silver arrow point and dinner stripes to Steve Harris, the Lion Badge, a gold arrow point and dinner stripes to Charles Findley, and the Lion Badge and a gold arrow point to Bob Calabray.

On display were many interesting projects completed by the Cubs. Mrs. Loretta Harris' Den #4 closed the meeting with a Den Yell.

The new Pack Committee consists of Cubmaster Edward Bianchi, Assistant Cubmaster Donald Mason, Committee Chairman Ernie Pearson, Secretary Harry Goldman, Treasurer Leroy Johnson, and Committeemen Stefan Niedziela, Arthur Burton, and Homer Wallace.

Den Mothers for the coming year are Mrs. Loretta Harris, Mrs. Juanita Wallace, Mrs. Barbara Parker, Mrs. Lela Ageson, Mrs. Barbara Wirth, and Mrs. Marie Lippert.

Campbell loses Thanksgiving

Los Gatos High made it "four straight" in the traditional Thanksgiving Day classic by defeating Campbell High 15-8 last Thursday. The win for the Wildcats was their 18th in the annual Turkey Day battle that started in 1934.

Campbell has won 12 and one game (1943) resulted in a tie.

The game on Thanksgiving Day had no effect on the championship of the West Valley Athletic League. Both teams were out of the running. But Los Gatos by the victory ended the season a 4-3 league record compared to Campbell's 1-5-1. Saratoga and Leigh share the championship with 6-1 record each.

Two long runs, one for 82 and the other for 84 yards resulted in touchdowns for the 'Cats.

The half-time score was 7-2 with Campbell gaining a safety in the second period after Los Gatos had scored a TD earlier in the same quarter. Los Gatos went on the scoreboard first after Steve Shank galloped 82 yards on a punt return early in the second period. Then in the fourth quarter, Randy Karmone, on an end-around play, eluded the grasp of several Bucs, scooted 84 yards.

Without those two long runs, the game could have been resulted in a unique 2-2 final score. Both teams picked up safeties.

Walt Womack, a Campbell High senior, who turned out to be the top gainer of the day, was tackled in his own end zone in the final period after a booming 60-yard punt by Dan Mathews had rolled dead on the Bucs' one-yard line.

Campbell was leading 8-7 in the third period when the safety out the Wildcats ahead 9-8. But the final touchdown put the icing on the game for Los Gatos.

Largely responsible for Campbell's score was Jim Strickland who returned a Los Gatos punt 36-yards. Womack was also a heady gainer in TD drive, snagging 29 yards. The score came on a shovel pass from Don Kinzel to Dave Maas.

Campbell drove again for 77-yards, again with Womack doing the heavywork, but stalled on the 13-yard line.

Womack during the game rushed for a total of 99 yards in 19 carries and caught four passes for 50 more. Los Gatos outgained Campbell 232 to 215 yards.

Campbell made 11 first downs to eight for Los Gatos and completed seven out of 18 passes while the Wildcats completed four of 13.

Dons lose to Camden

In the closest of the four West Valley Athletic League games played on Thanksgiving Day, Camden edged out Del Mar 12-6. And it went right down to the wire before a winner was decided.

With a minute to play, Mike Bush pulled in his second touchdown pass of the day and victory for the Cougars. Camden was fourth down on the seven when Bill Grewohl, alternate Camden QB with Bush, flipped the ball to Bush who banged his way across the goal.

Del Mar scored on a pass, going 99 yards for the TD and scoring with only two seconds to go in the half to knot the score at 6-6. Del Mar had taken over on the one-yard line after Larry Smith had failed to penetrate the Dons' goal line after starting on the nine.

But Smith made up for it in the second half, after being held for only 12 yards in the first half. He gained 119 out of Camden's 221 yard total for the day.

Tom Greenley was the top Don in the ball-carrying department. He also moved better in the second half than the first. He ended with 80 of Del Mar's total of 96 yards, carrying the ball 19 times.

Hornets win state crown

Before some 2,500 spectators, the Santa Clara County Hornets downed the highly touted and favored Pittsburg Mallards 21-6 on the turf of Buck Shaw Stadium Saturday night.

The win gave the Darien Bennet coached eleven a 11-0-1 season record, plus the mythical state championship. This was the 3rd annual Toys for Tots Bowl game.

The Hornets scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. A 70 yard drive was started with a pass from Camden prepster Rich Troedson to Kent Rankin (Santa Clara Hi) for 38 yards and was climaxed with full-back Bob Huber (Santa Clara Hi) crashing over center from the one for his 20th TD for the season.

In the third quarter, the Hornets scored again when Mark Cunningham of Castro Jr. High circled his right end for a three yard touchdown to climax a 63-yard drive. Huber added the extra point with a plunge.

The Mallards' half-backs, the speediest the Hornets have faced all season, gained good yardage and several Pittsburg drives were halted by pass interceptions. John Muir's Steve Orbanosky pilfered two while Leigh High's Brian Crosby intercepted another and Huber still another.

The final Hornet score came in the fourth quarter when Del Mar High's Glen Schanck tallied from one yard out. He also added the 21st point.

The Mallards got on the scoreboard in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter when fleet half back Jerry Lawrence scooted 46 yards on a reverse, circling the Hornets right end. He failed to convert.

The Hornet Bees played in the preliminary game against the El Cajon Falcons and lost a 14 to 7 heart-breaker. A win for the Bees would have given them the mythical state crown.

Saratoga gets share of league title by clobbering Blackford

Saratoga won the championship with Leigh of the West Valley Athletic League on Thanksgiving Day by sweeping by Blackford on the Los Gatos field by a 46-7 score.

Saratoga scored the first two times the Falcons got hold of the ball and led by a 14-0 score in the first period. The Falcons also scored twice in the second and third quarters but were held to a lone TD in the final stanza.

Blackford scored in the fourth period after a 44-yard drive of seven plays. Jeff Miller went over for the TD from the one-yard line after Ron Focht and John Morgan and scooted for 11 and 14-yard runs.

27 per cent increase in local TB cases

About one-third of the $120,000 goal of the current Christmas Seals campaign has thus far been reached, as new evidence of increase in tuberculosis cases in the area has been revealed.

Cecil Reid, Christmas Seals campaign chairman, reported figures show San Jose area with a 27 per cent increase in new cases over the previous year, leading all other cities in the State, including San Diego, San Francisco and Oakland. Reid pointed out, however, that the increases may be due to an active city and county health departments' case-finding program throughout the year.

Leigh beats Westmont 14-0

Leigh High School became co-champion with Saratoga on Thanksgiving Day by defeating Westmont High 14-0. But Westmont playing a league schedule for the first time this year, gave the co-champions a run for their money.

Westmont, Campbell Union High School District's newest school, spotted Leigh a touchdown in each of the first two periods but played even-steven for the rest of the contest.

By winning Leigh wound up with a 6-1 league slate and 8-1 for the season. Leigh is especially proud of the 13-12 victory over Saratoga. Westmont failed to win a game this year.

Westmont's Bruce Bradley, a sophomore, provided the basis for the Warriors' superior airgame by connecting for 11 of 28 passes for 100 yards.

Westmont threatened in the first half as Bradley directed the Warriors to the Leigh 20. Another threat ended on the 28. Two interceptions during the second half kept Westmont from penetrating beyond the 30.

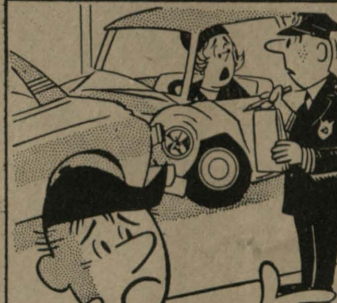

Doug Harlow, who left the game in the third period because of an injury, ran the ends well and netted 103 yards in 11 carries.

Donut shop is robbed

Proprietor Frank Devitatos officers the donut shop was closed when the burglary occurred. According to Campbell Police entry was made through a rear window and a ladder was used to climb over the partition into the locked office where the money was kept in a desk.

"But officer, how can it be my fault? The man was driving too close ahead of me!"

Housewife gets unemployment payment for staying at home

In a precedent setting decision, the California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board has awarded unemployment benefits to a married claimant who quit a good job, "because I wanted to stay home and be a housewife."

J. Richard Glade, executive vice president of the Unemployment Insurance Association, a group of California commercial, industrial employers, said the Appeals Board had to reverse a prior decision in order to pay unemployment benefits to the housewife.

The UIA, which was formed to discourage abuses in unemployment "handouts", claims the decision illustrates that the California UI program is being liberalized to the point where it is simply a "dole" or "handout", available to anyone who has some work experience.

Glade said, "This case demonstrates how a housewife can collect UI benefits of $55 a week for probably 39 weeks before going back to work and then repeating the same process all over again."

The claimant, who was awarded unemployment benefits, had worked as a keypunch operator for a Los Angeles firm for 4 years. While employed, she married. Her husband, reportedly, is steadily employed.

Months after her marriage she voluntarily quit her job to stay home and be a housewife.

NO CHILDREN
"No children were involved, her husband was not ill, nor was she; she just frankly and honestly stated that she wanted to stay home and be a housewife," said Glade.

At the Board hearing the claimant was represented by the Teamsters union, Locals 547 and 595 in Los Angeles and was also supported by the Retail Clerks Union, Local 770.

The Retail Clerks representative argued in favor of the benefit payments because, "a large number of our workers are women who might find themselves in a similar situation."

In a dissenting opinion by Board member Norman J. Gatzert, a former San Francisco attorney, it was stated, "I conclude that the claimant had a fundamental desire to assume, on a full-time basis, her duties and responsibilities as a housewife and when the family's financial situation so permitted, she fulfilled that desire by resigning from her employment."

Under these conditions, normally, benefits are not paid.

$ $ BURDEN
Glade said the Board's decision "another" abuse of the UI program said, "This huge financial burden (unemployment insurance tax) imposed on California employers will amount to over $500,000,000 this year alone and this entire sum will be paid out in UI benefits leaving nothing from a year of high prosperity to help with a recession."

WHO PAYS?
Glade also called on employers to educate their employees to the fact that they, the employees, do not pay any of the unemployment insurance tax, that the burden is carried entirely by the employers.

One fourth of the funds raised goes directly into research, and is administered from the national office. New Books AT THE CAMPBELL LIBRARY

FICTION
Crawford, Joanna--Birch Interval
This is the story of one year in a young girl's life. For Jesse, the year was one of double awakening. It was the year she came to love her uncle's quiet dignity and the year she saw the neighbors force his commitment to the state insane asylum. It was a year when Jesse learned that a friend is someone who loves without judging and that courage exercised destroys fear. A new writer, a new gift.

MORGAN, Joe--Amy go home.
There was nothing wrong with Amy Neal save that she had written a best-selling novel that had also become a book-club selection and had been sold to the movies. This is the story of how Lee Medford, a public relations man, went about providing a new public image for Amy, a young midwestern housewife with a husband and son back in Minnesota.

O'BRIEN, Pat--The Wind At My Back
Crammed with stones and anecdotes of the greats and the not-so-greats of Hollywood and Broadway, penned in an informal, conversational style that reflects the insouciant charm and wit of Pat O'Brien himself. The Wind At My Back is an intimate, behind-the-scenes view of the theater world--revealing in all its glamour, tawdriness, greatness, and hard work what an actor must do to get to the top.

SCHMITT, M. L.--The complete book of artificial flowers, fruit and foliage.
This book tells how to make dramatic, easily maintained, inexpensive and permanent flower arrangements, planters, trees and gardens. There are directions for making different kinds of trees and shrubs, including espalier, topiary and bonsai. This is a valuable guide for the new arranger as well as the skilled one. It is the only book of its kind to be published.

DEEPCDOWN RIVER by Neil G. Wilson
Driven from Spokane by the Depression, the Tinnocks, father, mother and five children, come in 1931 to the mountain country of North-Central Idaho. Their adventures and misadventures through seventeen years of living in this wild and beautiful country provide the substance of this delightful novel.

THE EXACT AND VERY STRANGE TRUTH by Ben Piazza
In the summer of 1946, Mrs. Gallanti and her three young children started a journey from Little Rock to Savannah. This novel is the story of that journey and how it ended, and what happened that summer to change their lives. It is also a journey through time in the mind of a twelve-year old boy, Alexander, as he remembers the life of his family and his own life within that family. The author is a gifted young writer.

Non-Fiction
SAVAGE NEW GUINEA by Jens Bjerre
Jens Bjerre's new book is again mainly concerned with his personal experiences and the life of the primitive tribes with whom he managed to establish friendly contact. Not all of the natives whom he met proved friendly, however. The expedition was twice attacked by hostile natives and Jens Bjerre was wounded. There are unique photographs in color.

Local women interested in the West Valley unit of the League of Women Voters are invited to attend the next meeting of this group on December 10 at 7:30 pm at the home of Mrs. Dale Mitchell, 6528 Rainbow Drive, San Jose.

Altar Society plans potluck

St. Lucy's Altar Society will meet Thursday, December 3, for a potluck luncheon at the Parish Hall at 12 o'clock. Entertainment will be provided by the First Grades who will sing Christmas Carols. Guests are welcome. Simple gifts will be exchanged by members and a shower of gifts for the convent is planned. Donations are still being accepted for Baby Layettes.

Members are requested to park in front of the church or by the side of the convent so as not to disturb classes which are in session. Hostesses for the day will be Mesdames Joseph Aver-sente, H. Smith, John Perata, and R. Berry-essa.

Women Voters begin drive

The annual finance drive of the League of Women Voters of Central Santa Clara Valley got under way this month when members of the board of directors called on area businessmen and industry leaders to support the LWV program. The LWV women are contacting more than 80 representatives of local firms that have shown an interest in citizen and community action.

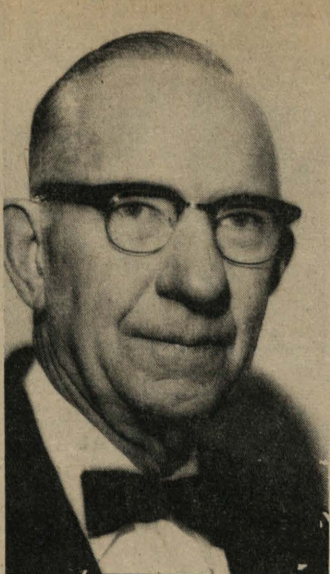

A non-profit organization, the LWV can provide fact sheets on issues with a budget of only $3,575 because much of the work is done by its enthusiastic volunteers. "Members' dues make up less than half the annual budget needs, so the LWV looks to community support to maintain its program of educating the voting public," said Mrs. Richard Koepcke, finance chairman.

Episcopal Church discussion group

St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 W. Rincon Ave., will hold an Adult Discussion Group concerned with the recent theological views expressed by the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal Bishop of California. The meetings will be held on Dec. 1. Dates for the next meetings are Dec. 8 and 15.

The Bishop's theological position has been greatly misquoted by both Christians and non-Christians alike," said the Rev. A. D. Carson, Vicar of St. Lawrence. This discussion group presents an opportunity to clarify this phase of the theological revolution.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

A couple of weeks ago, I had occasion to attend a high school freshman reception for parents.

One of the subjects discussed was college scholarships.

I, like a lot of other people, was under the impression that the straight "A" student would automatically walk off with any scholarship offered. However, this isn't necessarily so. As a matter of fact, a student with slightly lower grades and is involved in school activities definitely has the advantage. Scholarships will be awarded to the most well rounded student.

If your son or daughter has good grades and wants to run for a school office, don't discourage this. There are any number of clubs or committees that are considered extra-curricular that might prove, not only of interest to the student, but also of great value.

It is true that these meetings are generally held after school and sometimes may even

MODERN DRAMA

San Jose State College Drama department will present Christopher Fry's modern verse drama, "The Lady's Not For Burning, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 4 and 5, in the College Theatre at 5th and San Fernando Sts., San Jose. Additional performances are scheduled for Dec. 9 through 12.

meet one evening a week for a couple of hours. There are various language, history and math clubs for students who have a particular interest in these departments.

The art club at one particular high school in the Campbell School district is especially beneficial as the students not only learn about such as painting, drawing, etc., but all of the arts are included. Too few teenagers have any true appreciation for the arts and are not aware of their importance, both academically and socially.

Your daughters may want to join a swim team or your son the football team. This is not only beneficial to their physical conditions but teaches them team work as well as how it feels to win and to lose.

School clubs for students to join are too numerous to itemize but there is at least one that will appeal to your son or daughter. Encourage their participation and show an interest yourself. Your children will grow up far more confident and have a better chance at those coveted scholarships.

Auxiliary plans holiday lunch

Twenty-five members were present at the November meeting of the Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary. Plans for a Christmas luncheon at Villa Felice on December 17 are in full swing. Elton Admire, the hospital administrator and Mrs. Doris White, Director of Nursing, will be the guest speakers. Name tags will be available for this function and a good turnout is anticipated. Guests are invited.

An auxiliary work shop is also underway. Mrs. Victor Thoman is chairman of this project and interested members meet at her home, 699 Cambrian Dr. every Tuesday morning from 10 to 12.

Tryouts for next Light Opera

Paul Santos, president of the West Valley Light Opera Assn., has announced tryouts for the group's second production of the 1964-65 season, "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off."

Auditions will be held Dec. 14, 15 and 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the music room of Los Gatos High School in Los Gatos.

As with a number of other musicals that have become Broadway hits in recent seasons, "Stop the World" is a British import. Termed "a new-style musical," the show is unusual for its extensive use of pantomime coupled with a "Greek chorus" to narrate the action.

Asked what was his reason for choosing this show to continue the new West Valley Light Opera's initial season, Santos said: "We hope to offer something for everyone's tastes with our productions."

Performances of "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off" are slated Feb. 5, 6, 12, 13, 19 and 20 in the auditorium of West Valley Junior College in Campbell.

University Women slate International Christmas

"An International Christmas" will theme the annual Christmas Tea of San Jose Branch American Association of University Women calendared for Saturday, December 5, at 2 P.M. in the Del Mar High School Cafetorium.

International women students from the Philippines, India, Italy, Taiwan, Iran, Japan, Korea, Yugoslavia, Republic of Guinea, and Argentina, have been invited to the fellowships event.

Traditional Christmas carols, including "A Night Before Christmas," will be presented by the 30 member Saratoga-Los Gatos AAUW Choral Group directed by Mrs. E. L. Elbon, San Jose branch

Local girls will attend services

Pat Malone and Jan Raley of the Campbell Y-Teens will represent the San Jose YWCA in the Sunday, Dec. 6, World Fellowship Vespers in San Francisco's Grace Cathedral, it was announced today by Miss Linda Jankowski, teen-age program director.

They will be among eight young women from the San Jose area participating in the service. However, many more members and friends of the YW will be traveling to San Francisco aboard a chartered bus to attend the Northern California YWCA sponsored service.

Reservation for the bus trip may be made by calling the San Jose YWCA, 292-5727.

"CRITICS CHOICE"

Friday evening, December 4, will be opening night of "Critics Choice", the 44th production of the King Dodo Playhouse. This comedy will switch to Saturdays thereafter for a twelve-week run. The Playhouse is now located in the Montgomery Hotel on W. San Antonio St. in San Jose.

member, Mrs. E. H. Jackson will provide organ music during the dessert. A variety of holiday breads, donated by members, will be served.

Proceeds from the tea are contributed to the AAUW fellowships fund, from which educational grants to women scholars are given.

Campbell women taking an active part in preparing for the tea include Fellowships Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Gardner, of 13 Peter Drive; and Program Chairman, Mrs. S.J. Rosenlund, of 800 N. Harrison.

ON TEA COMMITTEE -- Mrs. S.J. Rosenlund and Mrs. Kenneth Gardner of Campbell discuss the "International Christmas" program chosen for the American Association of University Women annual Christmas Tea set for Saturday, December 5.

OUR TOWN

By Grace Hebard

THERE IS talk around town, principally in the Moreland School District area, of a Citizen's Committee being formed to start the wheels turning for a YOUTH CENTER in the Westgate area. This would be no small project, but hopes are high for something similar to the SANTA CLARA VALLEY YOUTH VILLAGE....

The Candid Camera television show came to the Santa Clara Valley recently and went to the dogs! Approximately 50 dogs from the Santa Clara Dog Training Club under the direction of James Crough, 758 W. Rincon Ave., Campbell, reacted to some unusual situations with hilarious results while the cameras rolled. Lou Tyrell of Candid Camera told club members to expect the program to be shown shortly before Christmas....

MAJOR EDWARD A. BENNETT of Marilyn Drive, Campbell's Congressional Medal of Honor Winner, is taking a few classes at West Valley JC and playing golf when weather permits. Two hundred and fifty invitations have been mailed to friends and business associates of Connie Regas, who is holding "Open House" on Saturday, December 5, at her new office building "Pines Plaza Realty" on West Rincon Ave.... MRS. ERIC SCHRAMM, 2190 Violet Way, was hostess to members of the Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary today for a Christmas party.
